Telstar MEA results plummet

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Telstar 11th-graders performed poorly in most recent round of standardized state testing.

The test was conducted in March; the class members are this year's seniors.

The students' performance also deteriorated significantly from 1990-91, when they took the eighth-grade version of the Maine Educational Assessment tests.

(Graphs on page 3 show the most recent state and Telstar scores, and the performance of this year's seniors as fourth-, eighth- and 11th-graders.)

School officials presented the results to the School Board last week. The administrators blamed a number of factors, including the weather, for the poor showing.

High School principal Ted Davis noted that nearly a quarter of the 83 students who took the test as eighth-graders had left the class prior to 11th-grade testing. Among those leaving, some to transfer to Gould Academy, were a disproportionate number of the class's better students.

And the few students who have transferred into the class since the 8th-grade have not been strong performers, he said.

Superintendent Ron Jenkins attributed the low scores in part to the low educational level of the class's parents. "Not many of these kids' parents went to college," Jenkins told the board. "Across the country and statewide it's been shown that there is a direct correlation between the education of the parents and the test results."

However the subgroup breakdown included with the test results does not seem to bear out the superintendent's argument.

In fact, according to the test documentation, a slightly larger percentage of the Telstar students' parents either attended or completed college, than did the parents of students statewide -- although a smaller percentage of Telstar parents had advanced degrees.

And the Telstar students whose parents had attended college turned

Hike/walk/bike/peep/shop -- enjoy the fall

Fall Festival Weekend, the traditional kick-off for the upcoming ski season, takes place Saturday and Sunday at Sunday River Ski Resort.

The weekend's attractions include leaf peeping, arts and crafts, hiking, mountain biking and pre-ski season sales and tours.

There may even be some skiing. Sunday River has been making snow intermittently on T-2 and may be able to open by Friday if the weather cooperates, according to spokesman Skip King.

And if not by this weekend, King said, the skiway will certainly be open within a week or two.

On Saturday morning at 10 a.m. Sunday River will host the seventh annual Mahoosuc Arts Council's Hike/Bike/Run. Sponsors for this year's event are: Sunday River Ski Resort, Groan & McGurn, the Sunday Journal, Boise Cascade, Gould Academy, Crisports, Key Bank and Empire Linen.

Registrants can sign up for a non-competitive hike or a competitive run up the Three Mile trail or a competitive mountain bike race over 10 miles of posted trails.

Registration will take place at the Sharpshooter's Desk in South Ridge Center from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. The $15 registration fee will include a 100 percent cotton, long sleeve T-shirt for the first 150 registrants. Mountain bike racers may bring their race bib to the Mountain Bike Park to receive a 50 percent discount on a Bike Park pass for the day.

Prizes including ski weekend getaways and lift tickets will be awarded in all age categories. Call the Mahoosuc Arts office for more information at 824-3575.

The 11th annual Blue Mountain Arts and Crafts Festival, which features over 50 Maine's artisans, will be held at South Ridge Center from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

The Sunday River Mountain Bike Park will offer off-road biking through beautiful fall foliage on six mountain peaks. The chair lifts are open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Mountain Bike Park office opens at 8:30 a.m. and is located in the Learn-to-ski Center. This will be the final weekend of operation this season for the Mountain Bike Park.

Crisports Ski Shop will celebrate its 10th anniversary year with its grand re-opening on Oct. 8. A tent sale will feature pre-season bargains.

Maine Handicapped Skiing will host its annual open house on Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Maine Handicapped Skiing Center.

Sunday River will also be conducting guided tours of the new Jordan Bowl Area over the weekend, and Sunday River Real Estate will be conducting tours of the newest on-slope condominium construction, the Locke Mountain Townhouses, on both Saturday and Sunday.

Patient, skillful hands bring wood to life

By WENDY HANSCOM

Retired aeronautics engineer Arthur "Mike" Murphy of Bethel spent his career designing and building airplanes and helicopters. But for the past few years, he's been much more interested in winged objects of another type -- birds.

His hand-carved birds look as if they might take to flight any moment.

Lately, he's also taken up whittling fish decoys. The decoys are examples of what spear fishermen once used to lure big game fish near an ice hole.

Murphy said he first got interested in whittling when his sons were in the Boy Scouts.

"I had five boys and two girls and one wife, and they became involved with the boy scouts," Murphy said. "We whittled neckerchief ties and did all sorts of knife projects. I became a scout master and got involved with all sorts of whittling. I had a high-pressure job, but instead of turning to wild women and booze, I got to work with the scouts and doing things with kids."

After retirement, he put more energy into his hobby. "When I got retired for three alleged heart attacks, (which turned out to be something else)," he said, "I came up here to get out of the fast track."

Once in Maine he fell in with some fishermen on the coast and spent one winter making lobster traps, repairing nets and carving duck decoys.

"The old fishermen would carve the decoys for their friends and neighbors," he said. "They were simple works, just something the hunters could shoot over."

In years past, fishermen would spend the off-season filling barrels with the decoys and shipping them to fancy stores in big cities, he said, where collectors would buy them.

Once he'd mastered the decoys (or "floaters"), no tricky legs to mess with he moved on to more ambitious projects. Blue herons, Canada geese, woodcocks and more now grace his living area.

He taught himself how to carve by keeping at it, talking to others and looking at their work.

An increasing interest in birds, their movements and habitats sent him to books on ornithology and related subjects.

"It's more than just whittling," he said. "You have to know about your subject. How it moves and lives."

It was difficult to get Murphy, a gregarious character with a sharp wit, to talk much about himself. He's much more interested in talking about his teaching work.

A SAD44 Adult Education instructor, Murphy is beginning his fifth year of teaching others how to Second Rt. 26 business burglarized

Whitman's Market on Route 26 in West Paris was burglarized early Saturday morning, according to Captain James Miclon of the Oxford County Sheriff Department.

The burglar got in by prying a side window. A couple of cases of beer and cigarettes were stolen, Miclon said.

Captain Miclon spent most the morning processing the store, for evidence, talking with people in the area and following up on some leads that came in the early morning. "We did recover some of the stolen property not far from the store," Miclon said. A reward has been posted in this case.

There are some leads in the case, but police would like anyone with information, who may have been in the area that night, or saw anything to please call him at the Oxford County Sheriff Department at 207-843-4252 or the toll free number, 800-482-7433.

This is the second burglary in a week that the Oxford County Sheriff's Department is investigating. Breau's Too, located on Route 26 in Bryant Pond, was burglarized earlier in the week, Miclon said.

Helmet credited in bike mishap

By WENDY HANSCOM

A Unity man escaped serious injury Tuesday just before noon, when he failed to negotiate a turn and his motorcycle fell over.

Gordan Cheeseman, 62, who was making a U-turn on the SAD44 bus garage lot, lacerated his elbow in the accident. He was transported to Stephens Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Cheeseman was wearing a helmet. Both Bethel Police Chief Dale Bellman and Cheeseman said the helmet probably prevented more serious injury.

Damage to the motorcycle was estimated at $200.

UNFAIRLY PUT BEHIND THE 8 BALL

To the Editor:

On Sept. 28 I had one of the biggest disappointments of my life. I went to the Bethel Planning Board meeting to be condemned without a trial by my West Bethel neighbors. I believed everyone had the right to do with their property what they wished as long as they followed guidelines set by their elected representatives.

I was wrong.

Your friends and neighbors set policy. Would these same neighbors want their rights infringed upon? Would they want a neighbor to say to them "I don't want you to build a workshop on your property because it might create smoke and you might have a stove which could also create smoke and I don't like smoke." The principle is the same. To say there might be too much noise and there might be problems is simply not fair. And the final injustice is to tell us that we have a good idea and they support our efforts as long as we "move it down the road." "We just don't want it in our backyard."

I feel The Citizen must also share in the blame for our condemnation. By referring to our rec center as a pool hall, The Citizen set a negative tone for our project. Most of the people at the meeting consistently referred to the center in a less than complimentary manner while calling it a pool hall.

Nina Wheeler and I wanted to open a recreation center for family entertainment knowing that we would probably have more teenagers than any other group. We wanted to give our teens a place to go. However, according to what I was hearing from the neighbors, we no longer have a generation of teenagers. Apparently we only have hoodlums that go around racing cars and four wheelers, yelling and swearing, urinating on lawns, abusing drugs, offending anyone they come in contact with, etc. It was suggested that teens either belonged in the home or going to church functions. That's great, but where is the strong youth group with parental participation in this community? Where are the activities? Did these same people sit at home with their parents never going anywhere or doing anything? How and where did they meet their husbands/wives?

I have a hard time understanding why we were condemned for trying to do something I know would be good for this community. Our hours were to be 4 to 8 on weekdays and 4 to 11 on weekends. Certainly not late enough to cause major concern. Finally we were told that it was unfortunate no one who wanted to see this project attended the meeting. We have plenty of support but obviously not from our neighbors. We had no idea that the neighbors were so strongly opposed to the project.

Well, Nina does not want to offend her neighbors. She seems to be one of those with a conscience and principles. I guess I don't particularly want to offend the neighbors either. We do not feel it is fair to ask the Planning Board (who are caring, concerned individuals trying to do justice to all parties) to make this extremely difficult (for them) decision. We would both like to thank them for their efforts for the community and each individual who comes before them. I don't believe Planning Board meetings are easy on anyone. Therefore, we told the Planning Board we were rescinding our Site Plan Application. We will not offend anyone any further.

Oh, please stay tuned. We may have had a setback, but we are not quitters. You'll be hearing more from us in the future in our original location for our bowling facility.

REMEMBERING HULDA STEVENS

To the Editor:

Bethel has lost a valued citizen with the tragic death last week of Hulda Stevens. She was devoted to her family, her church, her community, and her Grange. It was in the Grange that I came to know her in the 1950s. She and her husband Richard, who was master, were among the leaders of Alder River Grange when I was a teenager. I will never forget how much fun we had with various games, skits, and plays. We had a great many laughs in those days and one of the things I will always remember about Hulda was her appreciation of humor. She also was very loyal to the Grange. Whatever the project, she could be counted upon to help.

I don't know of anyone who ever had an unknd word for her. She was a bright, low-key individual, a good neighbor to my parents and everyone else who had the privilege of knowing her.

There is one other thing I regret about Hulda's sudden death. In the Foreword of my forthcoming book on the history of the State Grange I paid tribute to Richard Stevens for his role in making my early Grange membership such an enjoyable one. I mentioned to Hulda at our last Grange meeting that I had put this in the book and said I hoped she liked it. She responded that she would look forward to seeing it. Now that will not happen, but at least she knew of my high regard for her husband and herself.

Tips from the

Bethel Conservation Commission

Animal Fats and Grease -- Don't put them down the sink drain. If your house is hooked up to the town sewer, such grease makes the operation of the wastewater treatment plant more difficult and increases plant operating costs.

If you have your own septic system, solidified grease collects in the septic tank and is not readily converted by bacterial action. Over a period of time, it can hamper proper septic system operation and lead to contamination of ground water.

Kitchen fats and grease can be collected in a covered can, allowed to solidify, and disposed of with other solid waste going to the landfill.

CORRECTION

Upton lawsuit - The story in the Sept. 21 edition regarding Upton facing a lawsuit over how the town's School Committee handled transportation bids stated that the committee rejected the first round of bids as too expensive.

The first bids were rejected instead, according to committee head Wanda Lavallee, because the committee decided not enough time was allowed between when the job was put out to bid and the deadline for the bids.

The bids were rejected the second time as too expensive, Lavallee said.

GAZEBO FUNDRAISING BEGINS -- The Bethel Board of Selectmen has given its second endorsement to plans for a gazebo on the town common, and the Bethel Gazebo Fund is now taking contributions toward the construction of the building. The building materials will cost an estimated $12,000 to $15,000, according to organizer David "Fuzzy" Thurston. The labor and technical services required for the project will be volunteer, Thurston said. Included among those volunteers is architect Stuart Crocker, who drew up the plan above. The gazebo has the support of two key neighbors, the Bethel Historical Society and the Bethel Inn, as well as the Mahoosuc Arts Council. The selectmen Monday unanimously approved the plan (the town will own the gazebo when it is complete). The selectmen noted that a few questions still remained to be worked out, such as usage policy, lighting to reduce vandalism and ensuring that the Bethel Inn awning is not obscured. But selectman Dutch Dresser said, "There's plenty of time to do that." Thurston said he hoped to raise funds over the winter and begin construction in the spring. ccax works of art out of chunks of basswood.

Some sharp tools, a few cans of paint, 1 percent of talent and 99 percent of stick-to-it-ness, is all he says that's needed to succeed.

"Anyone can do it," he said. "But after a few efforts you start making a piece of art. It takes perseverance."

He makes the process sound easy. Select a block of wood. Decide what you're going to carve. Tack a cardboard template to the wood. Use a band saw to rough out around the template and start digging.

"I just tell them to whittle away anything that's not the bird," Murphy said.

The instruction doesn't usually stop after the 10-week Adult Ed. course is up, he said.

"We rarely finish anything in class," he said. "They've been really good to us at Adult Ed. They don't throw us out. When the 10-weeks are up, sometimes we just transfer the sessions to here. The place is usually packed with people. They come and go and get advice when they've chipped off too much wood or put a dab of paint in the wrong place."

"It's a big social club. People discuss everything from space exploration to preaching the gospel while their whittling," he laughs.

Murphy said he's not beyond pushing his students to learn more about their work.

"Most of us have rifle barrel vision," he said. "We don't see what's going on around us. I push them to learn more. To put the finished birds in their natural habitat, to read and learn."

Pond and Wheeler wanted to open the rec center, Pond said, so that the pair could gain enough business experience to get financial backing to open a bowling alley.

But those at the hearing clearly did not want the facility in the heart of their village.

"West Bethel has changed a lot in the three years I've lived there," said Jolene Shimamura. "There's a lot of noise and screeching tires and a lot of people around. I don't feel safe having a lot more people in the neighborhood."

Mabel Walker said police were called to the village recently when a carload of young people chased another youth onto a lawn and "talked about getting guns and bullets."

Pond said she didn't think the rec center would attract large crowds of young people.

"If we have that many then we'll go somewhere else," she said. "Everyone says a place like this is needed, but nobody wants it in their backyard."

Elizabeth Carter said the confrontation between Pond, Wheeler and their neighbors could have been avoided.

"It's unfortunate that you didn't survey all of us in the area," Carter said. "If you had, you would have found many of us opposed to it."

Pond questioned what role citizens' complaints play in the approval process.

Henley said. And the parking problem could be resolved, she said, by locating the building at a spot on the site other than that presented by Merrill -- even though an alternative site would require the developer to do more filling.

(The selectmen and Merrill are still negotiating how much money he should be expected to put into developing the site. The plan Merrill presented to the Planning Board, "had kind of changed around from what I understood us to have discussed," selectman Bob Chadbourne said.)

Henley also claimed Monday that other concerns raised by the Planning Board, regarding the lack of room for expansion of the building or its utilities, were not valid areas of site plan review. She also noted that the Planning Board had not actually voted to reject the application, but only to recommend that the selectmen reconsider it.

The plan is to be presented again at the Planning Board's Oct. 12 meeting.

In other business Monday, the selectmen approved a request by Sunday River Ski Resort owner Les Otter to construct a temporary tent-like structure at Col. Dyke Airport to protect his airplane through the winter.

In approving the request, the board stipulated that the structure be taken down by the end of May, 1995; and that any further requests for such structures be reviewed by the airport advisory group -- to ensure that they are sufficiently strong and located where they will

LOOKING BACK

10 years ago: The board of selectmen executed a contract with Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments to conduct an environmental assessment of the Bethel Airport. Receiving awards from the Gould Academy Alumni Association were William M. Throop Jr., the Nathaniel Tuckerman True Award; Frank A. Vogt, the Association's Faculty Award; Michael S. Stowell, the Alumnus-of-the-Year Award. Donald S. Brown retired after 33 years with The Bethel Citizen. Emily Keyes of North Windham, formerly of Bethel, was selected to dance in the Nutcracker Ballet at the Portland Civic Center during the Christmas holidays. Births: Brian Zinchuk, Elizabeth Chace, Kathryn Cook. Marriage: Arlene Hart and John Heath Jr. Deaths: Maude Hunt, Oscar Johnson.

20 years ago: A recreational swimming elective was offered at Telstar Regional High School as a result of the generous offer of Jim Fiske, owner of the New Yorker Motel (now Rostay), to use the motel swimming pool. The yield signs in the village were changed by the Maine D.O.T. so that Route 5 traffic would yield to traffic on Main Street. Peter Bean of East Bethel exhibited a 1,100 pound Hereford-Angus baby beef at Fryeburg Fair. The animal was caught by Bean in the calf scramble of a year ago. Marriages: Cynthia Porter and Anthony Koliche; Rebecca Taylor and Neil Marston. Death: Ralph Hewey.

30 years ago: Two landmark buildings were demolished: the Andrews house which was moved from Church Street to Elm Street 34 years ago and purchased by Gould Academy from Hugh Thurston 25 years ago for faculty housing (Wilbur and Polly Myers and Herbert and Evelyn Nickerson once lived here) was torn down, graded and seeded; the second demolition was the large set of buildings (formerly Niles Kellogg's store) at the corner of Railroad and Mechanic Streets (now the site of Earl Hutchinson's house) was demolished by owner Robert Billings. Kay Eames became the new secretary-clerk at the Bethel Town Office, replacing Phyllis Blake, who resigned. Linda Paine was chosen by the music department of Vermont College for the Vermont College chorus. Earl Paine received official notification of his appointment as Bethel's Postmaster. Death: Harold Pike.

"This planning board has been good to us," Pond said. "We don't want to put you in the position of choosing between our project and what the community thinks of our project."

"We'll come back when we have a different spot to do it," she said. "We want to do something for the community. If it takes a little bit longer, it does."

After the board had moved on to other topics and completed its agenda, Pond came back and withdrew the application.

"This planning board has been good to us," Pond said. "We don't want to put you in the position of choosing between our project and what the community thinks of our project."

The board agreed Monday to calculate the sewer system development charge for Pat's Pizza on the basis of 12 rather than 30 gallons of water per day, per seat.

The 30-gallon figure is used in the Maine plumbing code, but developer Bill Dunton argued that the 12-gallon figure was consistent with the actual usage at other Bethel restaurants and other Pat's Pizza locations.

The board agreed to the 12-gallon figure, but with the stipulation that the actual usage be reviewed after three years and the fee adjusted upward if the usage turns out to be more than 12 gallons per seat.

The selectmen had established the precedent for such an arrangement when setting the SSDC fee for the Bethel Station project.

Williamson said that she is unable to continue her term because she is recommended to selectmen that she is manager. "This year I felt as if I was flying," Williamson said. "Nothing is simple." She has much additional work on selectmen, she runs for town government positions.

Telstar 1, Mt. Valley 2

Telstar High School held a 1-0 lead through the first half of Monday's game against Mt. Valley, but the Falcons came back in the second half, scoring two goals and beating the Rebels 1-2.

The Falcons outshot the Rebels 21-10, but a strong Telstar defense kept the Mt. Valley offense at bay until the second half.

Sean Kangas scored Telstar's goal off a pass from Tim Remington.

Telstar is ranked sixth in Western Maine State Class C in the latest Heal Point Ratings.

The boys are scheduled to play at Leavitt today (Wednesday), and travel to Dirigo Friday.

Gould 3, Hyde 0

The Gould Academy men had no trouble with Hyde Saturday, Oct. 1, winning 3-0.

Gould scorers were Devin Riley with an assist from Tim Landry; Mike Rackcliffe with an assist by Jackie Chow, and an unassisted goal by Jeremy Vail.

"This was a good win for us," said coach John Wight. "We had better team play and our defense was very stingy, allowing Hyde only six shots that had to be saved by Erik Penna in goal. Our shooting was better, and passing from midfield to attack has improved."

The team is scheduled to meet Hebron today (Wednesday) at home at 2 p.m., and travel to Kents Hill on Saturday.

Telstar 1, Mt. Abram 1

Telstar's Tim Remington tied the school's scoring record Thursday, Sept. 29, with his 29th career goal. The Rebels tied Mt. Abram 1-1.

The Roadrunners led midway through the second half, but with 13 minutes left to play Remington tied the score with a goal from 35 yards out.

In the cage, Todd Wing and Adam Newell combined for two saves.

Gould 1, CVA 3

The Gould Academy men's soccer team lost 1-3 Wednesday, Sept. 28 to Carrabassett Valley.

Devin Riley scored the sole Huskie goal after a restart by Jeremy Vail on an indirect kick.

Gould 2, CVA 7

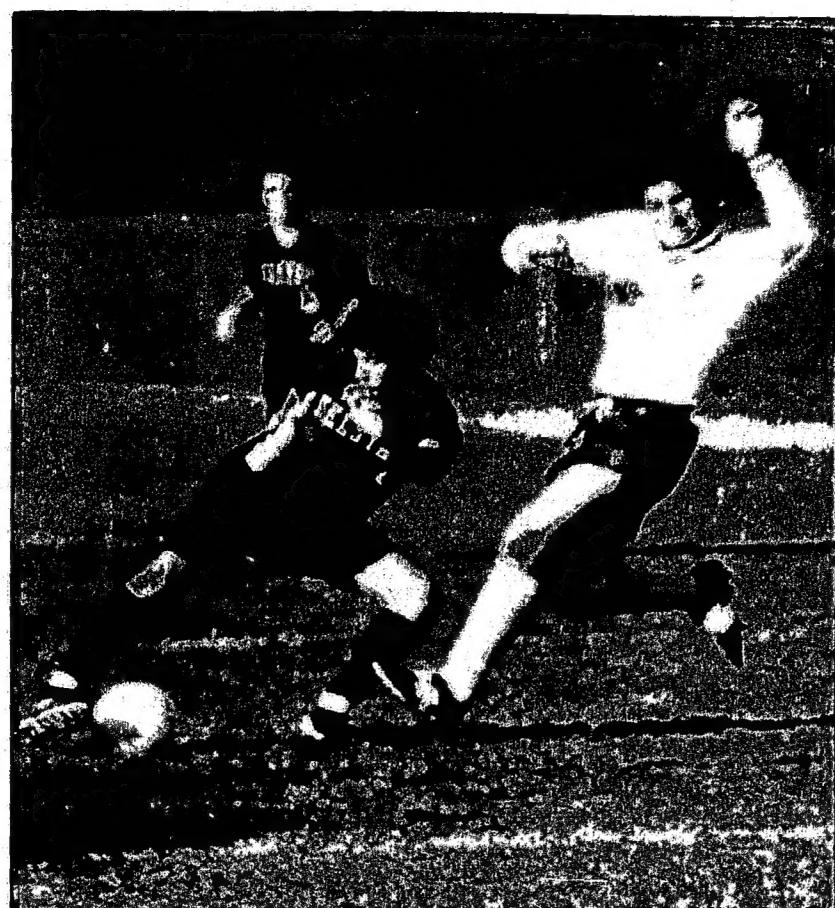

Gould Academy's women soccer team dropped a 2-7 game to Carrabassett Valley on Thursday, Sept. 28.

It's that time of year when your local Rotary Club must start gathering items for our annual auction. The proceeds of all our efforts go to support such projects as the Senior Citizen Christmas Dinner, Christmas Food Baskets for the needy, student scholarships, support of the local health facilities, summer camp tuition, area athletes expenses, disabled individual needs, etc.

If you're cleaning the garage, attic or cellar, let us get rid of those unused items for you. Call Roger Conant, 824-2131 or 824-2269 for pickup.

Help us with your support of our projects. It's a good feeling!

Andover

By KAREN MCKAY

The Fire Department will hold an open house on Saturday, Oct. 8, from 11 to 3. A bake sale will be held. The Andover Rescue will be on hand to check your blood pressure. Refreshments will be served.

The historical society invites all to visit their open house on Sunday, Oct. 9, from 1 to 4 p.m. Mementos of the Andover Fair, which was first held in 1894, will be displayed. There will also be a display of "Favorite Antiques." The society will offer their stationery, 1995 calendars, and place mats for sale. Anyone who has items they may wish to display for the day, in either category, should contact any historical society member, Bev Swan at 392-4742, or Trudy Akers at 392-3157.

Dianne Cutting recently entertained family members with a barbecue, among those attending were her daughter Mindy of Portland and granddaughters Riley and Kayce and Dianne's son Chris who was home for a weekend visit from his home in New Britain, Conn.

Polly Johnston and Dottie Mills went to North Conway shopping on Monday.

Dick and Polly Johnston went with Roger and Dottie Mills to the Balsams for the luncheon buffet on Wednesday and enjoyed the beautiful fall foliage.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnston left for their home in Spanaway, Wash. on Saturday, stopping to see Reverend and Mrs. David Wuori in New Market, N.H. and his niece Candy Johnston in Easthampton, Mass.

Robert and Violet Swain have returned from a 10-day trip to Kentucky. They visited with their son, Robert Jr., and family for several days and then went on to Louisville to attend Robert's 78th Troop Ranger Squadron reunion. Fifty men returned and 43 guests. Next year, the reunion will be in Albuquerque, N.M.

Mildred Y. Judkins, widow of Perry Judkins (who died in 1965), died on Sept. 15, 1994, at the age of 88 in Augusta.

The family lived in Andover during the late 1930s and early 1940s. They lived where the Merton Perkins live now.

Mrs. Judkins was the daughter of the late Win and Emma Morse York. Mrs. York and Mrs. Robert J. Swain (Lucie Morse Swain) were sisters.

She is survived by two daughters: Dorothy of Farmingdale and Marilyn Emery of Brunswick; four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by a son, Stanley.

Services were held on Sept. 17 in Gardiner. Burial was in South Paris.

Robert J. Swain II, Lexington, Ky., spent a few days last week with his parents and other family members. While here he attended his 30th class reunion at Gould Academy.

Franklin Grange 124 met Monday, Sept. 19 with 30 members and one small guest present. This was an agriculture night. Some came dressed as farmers. Discussion was held regarding new wiring and a request for new grange cottage at Goodwin-Hinkley. Program: opening thought by Anna Swan; song by all; poem by Russell Yates; Bertha Benoit sang a couple songs; song by all; riddle by Pam Moody; song by Harry Boyer; poem by Richard Felt; five ladies read a poem, "The Old Man in the Woods"; Dot Canwell whistled a couple songs; Louis Woodworth sang a couple songs; closing thought. Louis and Myrtle Bistec spoke briefly. The next meeting will be Hobo and apple brownies served. Ten members were present.

Curator Larry Billings has sent some handouts he wrote on antiques to the regular historical members. By things like this and information that is put in the newspapers the society tries to provide educational material to people. That is one of their services. Curator Billings has given an oil painting to the society.

He says it was reasonably priced but is very nice and should add much to the society's art collection. The society meets the second Saturday of each month at 7 p.m.

On Saturday, Oct. 8 at 7 p.m.,

Stuart Martin will speak to the historical society. Mr. Martin has done

Scrambled Officers night on Oct. 3. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

On Tuesday, Alice and Arthur Wardwell entertained her sisters and four nieces for a boiled dinner. Those present were Edith and Harris Hathaway, Phyllis Jordan and Harriet Estes, Ruth Dunham and Bessie House, Beatrice Farnum and Alice Hoyt. A good time of visiting was enjoyed as was the delicious dinner.

Joseph and Maggie Hoyt visited their father, James Hoyt and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoyt over the weekend. Shawn and Ray Crockett visited Saturday night and Sunday.

The Historical Society studies our world and the impact of events through the ages. What achievements of civilization still affect us today? That is one thing we are trying to answer. The society is a legacy for our area. Larry Billings, curator, donated a cookbook to the society. The society observes that Grover Smith once said, "The past survives the memory."

The Woodstock Extension met at the Town Annex on Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. for a meeting and to work on wreaths for the Holiday Open House on Oct. 29. A brown bag lunch was held with coffee and apple brownies served. Ten members were present.

Ski gear will be issued in the basement of the town office (around back). If you can't make it at the above times please call Gail Sysko at 824-3244 or any committee member. An adult must accompany students to sign for the gear and remember to bring your ski socks for trying on boots.

On Saturday, Oct. 15, at 6 p.m. at the grange hall the Recreation Committee is sponsoring a Harvest Potluck Supper. This is a good chance to catch up with your neighbors and to meet some new folks. There will be games for the kids. The Recreation Committee will provide drinks and rolls. So bring a dish to share and enjoy an evening with the neighborhood.

The Newry Community Church Ladies Circle will meet Monday, Oct. 10, at 12:20 p.m. at Louise Telle's residence.

The Newry Mothers' Club will meet at the Newry Town Building Monday, Oct. 10, at 7:30 p.m. with Karlene Bachelder and Mary Morin on the snack committee (also, dues are due).

Roger Hanscom was in the Rumford hospital when I wrote this. I don't know if he will be there long.

Services were held at the Newry Community Church Sunday morning, Sept. 25, at 9 with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the Pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The Message of the Day was: "The Power of Prayer, where does it lie?"

The Power of Prayer is in the Love of God... Jesus said "Thou shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy mind." Prayer: "Give us, Lord, a bit o'sun/A bit o' work and a bit o'spinner/Give us in all the struggle and sputter/Our daily bread and a bit o' butter/Give us health our keep to make/A bit to spare for other's sake/Give us, too, a bit o'song/And a tale and book to help us along/Give us, Lord, a chance to be/Our Godly best; brave, wise and free/Our Godly best for ourselves and others/Till all men learn to live as Brothers..." Amen

P.S. Louise Telle and I went to the Rumford Community Health Center Monday, the 26th, to see Amy Hanscom. She told us that Roger had been operated on that day and was resting. Vada, their nice, was also visiting while we were there. We wish Roger a very speedy recovery.

Sis Post hosted a delicious luncheon for her North Newry friends on Tuesday, Sept. 28. Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Louise Telle and yours truly were there. After coffee we had a delightful two to three hours of conversation talking about everything and everybody, hal Archie was in his favorite chair reading or dozing. He is doing o.k. for his age! We wish him health and a long life. Thank you, Sis, for a great afternoon.

Members of the "Newry Bowling Gang" who were at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford were: Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Secley, Louise Telle, Bea Lowell, Doris Parent, Irene Hadfield and Olive Anderson. On the overall scores, Betsy was high on the triples, beating Karlene by two pins. But Karlene was high on the singles, beating Gil by two pins. Of the "Righties," Louise was high on both the singles and triples. Karlene had two spares, Betsy had one spare and one strike, Gil had three spares, Olive had one strike, Irene had one spare, Bea had two spares, Doris had one spare and Louise had one spare.

I returned home Sunday after spending two weeks with my brother and wife in Unity. I visited with Marguerite Scott one afternoon. Another day we visited friends in Camden and enjoyed a picnic lunch on top of Mt. Battie. Last week an intestinal "bug" caught up with me so spent most of the time reading and watching videos.

Bill Bancroft was taken to the Norway hospital by ambulance last Thursday morning and was discharged Friday night. Phyllis has also been house bound this week.

Mrs. Gladys Grenier and Mrs. Evelyn Kimball were dinner guests Sunday night at the David Salways to honor Evelyn's birthday.

Some cottagers enjoyed watching a big moose swim across the pond from the eastern shore, browse around near Norris Brown's cottage, then swim back to this side of the pond and disappear into the woods.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Hulda Stevens.

CORRECTION: Last week's Mincemeat Recipe left out three bowls ground apples added to the mixture in the kettle. This is an important ingredient -- makes mincemeat a bit tart. Sorry, folks!

What is that flying past my window? A snowflake -- of course not -- it's milkweed seed. It whirrs about and soars above the sash and spins itself to unheard of heights, then in an impetuous moment slips lazily to the ground as it catches a "down-draft" (not unlike a surf boarder who rides the crest of mighty waves to shore). When I was a child I was told that little leprechauns piloted these feathered vehicles of down, and I thoroughly believed it. My imagination was very vivid, and it remains so today. The "let's pretend" factor is part of the magic of childhood and also serves its purpose in adult life as well. Oh, by the way, did you know that during World War II the government paid folks to gather ripe milkweed pods? They were used as a substitution for kapok, a man-made fiber that was hard to come by, and used to fill life vests for the Navy. So often a good use is found in times of crisis for just such tiny things Mother Nature has provided for us. Some, I'm sure, are yet to be discovered. Imagination is the Mother of Invention. The hidden message, then, for all of us to live by should be this -- It's not nice to tamper with Mother Nature. Let's remember that when we plan to disturb our wilderness and our wetlands. We need the ecology -- and, yes, ecology needs us.

We in the community are saddened to report that our good friend and neighbor, Audrey Franklyn has sold her trailer and outbuildings (lock, stock and barrel) and is moving back to the Portland area to be nearer family and old friends. We are happy for Audrey and send our good wishes with her. It's a plus for her, but I'm afraid a "no-win" situation for us.

I was asked to report for those of you who collect Avon bottles or trinkets that a man in Gorham, N.H., has a collection of about 1500 of the memorabilia which he wishes to sell. Included are some of the oldies (as far back as 1939) and the goodies of recent times. Most bottles are full or half full. You will be able to contact this man evenings at 603-466-5430. He will be glad to discuss terms with you.

Linsley Chapman has been feeling under the weather with a virus that seems to be making its rounds.

Rose Taylor was in Norway on the 27th making a visit to her doctor. Kathy Sweetser and Cody attended a field hockey game at Mt. Valley in Rumford. Billie Jo, her daughter, plays on the varsity team at Telstar. Her boys, "J.R." and Johnny have been busily helping Frank Gibson in his apple orchard nights after school. Justin Baker also goes in to help.

Edward Rice got welcome help from his son, "Little" Eddie, on the weekend of the 24th. He helped him put a new start on his car.

Tammy Rice is babysitting Elaine Sweetser's children nights while Elaine works at a New Hampshire restaurant.

How about some news people? I beg, I plead, but my phone doesn't ring. Come on now -- loosen up -- this column is for you, let's make it work.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

Fall's yield is everywhere. I have noticed it as I have walked this week.

The apples were hanging heavy on the branches, mellowed by the sun's glow and waiting for the pickers.

Squash, pumpkins and tapered carrots are a part of nature's convention having a last fling, while the dahlias and marigolds look on.

Our season of growth has passed. What a time is autumn! The roadsides are beginning to be drifts of color. Today, I noticed the maples, some green, some red, holding hands above the old road, where Nature's housekeeping was sometimes untidy and sometimes neat. She had not swept her floor of recent fallen branches.

Across the road, with full speed, pouches stuffed, ran Tiny Chipmunk. He headed for a pile of rocks weathered and gray.

"Along the country roads/We find these old gray walls./Upon their lichenized stones/The season's sunlight falls./These old New England walls/Remind us of the toil/And patience that it took/To farm this rocky soil."

I liked the old gray barn in the distance, big, true and solid against the hills.

Every season of the year, these hills tell us something, which is hard to put into words. You just feel it, and he who likes hills knows what I mean.

The changing times can still be sensed in contrast to the present day. If you follow one of these back roads into the lonely wooded hills, you are apt to find at journey's end only a cellar hole in a clearing.

"Upon the damp cool rocks that made the floor/The harvest's bounty carefully was stored/Potato bins and apple barrels were there/Crisp carrots in the sand beneath the stair."

Truly, these showers of memories of yesterday and dreams of the tomorrows are to those who have once tasted the country side something to remember always.

Rena Curtis and I visited my brother, Ernest Curtis, in Poland one day during the week.

Milton and Eleanor Inman have returned home after a week of vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Keijo Saarinen of Gardner, Mass., visited me recently and other friends in town. He lived here for many years and went to school here. I was pleased to see them.

David was at the farm to see his parents, Leonas and Fay Holt, on Sunday. He gains very slowly from the accident, so still has a lot of pain.

I was in Auburn last Saturday and Sunday afternoon to attend the bridal show, put on by Margo's of Norway and various stores in the Auburn Mall. My granddaughter, Sarah Hart, was one of the models in the bridal show and for Deb's Shop. She modeled two beautiful wedding gowns and a bridesmaid gown and several outfits from Deb's. There were several girls and young men that modeled also. It was a most enjoyable two days. Carol Hall taped the show and did a real good job. All the models did a great job.

Recently Esther Davis and niece, Norma Satori from Poland Springs travelled to Carthage to visit a cemetery where both Esther's and Norma's grandparents and in some cases great-grandparents are buried. They then went on to Weld and to the Height of the Land. Esther said the scenery was just beautiful. They then visited Esther's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hines and family in Wilton and had an enjoyable lunch with them. The rest of the day was spent visiting two other sisters and husbands Mr. and Mrs. James Whittemore and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pike. An extra special day was had by everyone.

A roofing bee was held on Sunday at Nick and Marta Clements. Family members came from Searsport, Kennebunk, Swanville and Ware, N.H., and a neighbor, Erlon Twitchell, pitched in to help to re-roof Marta and Nick's home here in South Woodstock.

Lolalee Dillingham won three blue ribbons on crafts she had entered in the Oxford County Fair. She had never entered before but was encouraged by friend to do so. Congratulations Lola. Lola had a sale at the Union Church this Friday and Saturday.

Larry Billings, Curator, Woodstock Historical Society has given an oil painting of a farmhouse and some hills to the Society. It was a pair of pictures. He kept the other. Mr. Billings has also given a tin and some glass to the Society. The museum has interesting collections of glass, china and tins. He also was to report that Woodstock Historical Society has exhibits of furniture, quilts, uniforms, dresses, tools, photographs, books, postcards, etc.

While the museum is closed this winter, you can go to a meeting and see the exhibits then. In fact, you can join the Society. This is the time of year dues are usually collected.

So come and make a contribution.

I'm enjoying having my granddaughter, Jessie Hart, staying with me mornings and after school while she attends the eighth grade at Telstar.

Another cloudy day, sure hope some of the rain holds off, so we can enjoy the beautiful foliage a little longer.

Congratulations are in order for Clyde Millett, who got the Judge's Trophy for Best Matched Classes and Best Pair of Calves. They were first-place winners in the open show for steer and oxen at the Oxford County Fair. He has some awfully nice animals and they are exceptionally well-trained. If you're at the Fryeburg Fair, stop over and say hi to him. He is from the Mountain View Farm in Stoneham.

The leaves have turned real pretty now, and I hope everyone can take time to get out and enjoy them. There is a lot of traffic by the house now on account of the foliage and Fryeburg Fair.

The Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War 1861-1865 met Wednesday, Sept. 28, at 7 p.m. for their monthly meeting with president Leslie Dean presiding and seven members present. Two letters of thanks were read by the secretary, also the monthly newsletter from department president Gail Butterfield. An application was presented and voted on, which was favorable.

The charter was draped for the passing of former national president Fayette Belle. Plans were finalized for the supper and inspection meeting to be held on Oct. 26 here in Stoneham at 6 p.m. Hildred Safford won the mystery prize. A nice lunch of apple crisp and ice cream and hot and cold drinks was served by Joyce Gouin and Leslie Dean after the meeting.

Several people from town are having a PrimeStar satellite installed for their television. Will tell you more about it next week.

Saturday, Sept. 24, was the last Church Thrift and Bake Sale of the year, and we want to thank you all for making it such a successful project. See you all next spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Millett are having new vinyl siding put onto their home, also new windows. The Rescue Service is having new vinyl siding on, also.

Much of the news we hear and read is dramatic and tragic. Small town happenings seem mundane by comparison. They are important to us perhaps because they are close and real. This was brought home to me recently when I attended a meeting and another correspondent came in. A third person said to her, "Where was your news last week? I always read yours first and yours second," indicating both of us. Personally, I like reading about the bowling teams, birthday parties, scouts, meetings and all the myriad reportings in The Citizen, whether or not I know the persons and places.

Last Monday evening, we attended Agricultural Night at Franklin Grange, going dressed like farmers.

Our deputies, Lewis and Myrtle Bissell, were present as well as several other visitors. We had an enjoyable meeting and the lunch after the meeting was very nice, too.

Tuesday forenoon, Peggy went with her friend Evelyn Johnson from Locke Mills to visit Rosario and Yvonne Falardeau in Mechanic Falls. The Falardeaus are dance friends but ill health has kept them from the dances lately.

Friday was a wet, rainy day, and I found plenty to do inside while Peggy went to do her card work at Rite Aid Drug Stores in South Paris and Bridgton.

That evening, we attended the 120th birthday of Oxford Grange at Welchville. It should have been a very joyous occasion with the nice program that their lecturer had prepared, but the pleasure of the evening was sadly marred by the accident involving Ivy Philbrook and Hulda Stevens, members of Alder River Grange of East Bethel. They had parked their car across the road and as they crossed the road were struck by a car, the result being death for Hulda Stevens and hospitalization for Ivy Philbrook. They had come to join the gang at Oxford Grange and an evening of entertainment, but the evening ended in lots of sorrow. We wish to extend sympathy to the families.

Sunday afternoon was a busy time for us. Bertha Benoit came after us and we all attended rehearsal of the Pomona Grange degree at Franklin Grange Hall in Bryant Pond. We saw the Pomona degree at Franklin Grange on Oct. 4.

After rehearsal, we came back home, changed our clothes, had some supper and then went to help work the third and fourth degrees at Norway Grange. I had been asked to take the master's office during the working of the degrees, and I was glad to do so. There were several candidates, which made it seem more worthwhile.

The evening ended with a nice lunch after the meeting. I was given a nice gift of money, which of course I appreciated, but I was glad to be able to help out and didn't expect anything but a thank you for doing so.

Faith Lovejoy was an overnight guest of Jennifer Haverinen Thursday night.

There will be a dance at West Paris Grange Hall on Oct. 8, with music furnished by the Richard Felt Orchestra. Dancing will be from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Don't forget the Craft, Food and White Elephant Sale to be held at West Paris Grange on Oct. 15, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Donations are needed for the food and white elephant tables. Tables cost $3 each. To reserve a table or for information, call Peggy Blake at 674-3872 or Mary Lovejoy at 674-2147.

There will be a Flu Clinic at West Paris Grange Hall on Oct. 25, from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. This clinic will be serviced by Bethel Area Health Center. The cost will be $7 for those that must pay for their flu shot and will be free of charge for those who have a Medicare card.

Andover DEP seek

By BARBARA ADAMS

The Maine Department of Environmental Protection is seeking Andover Wood Products to assess Andover Wood Products' civil penalty of $10,000 to obtain a new emission prior to a modification of the system, according to Mendel of Maine's Bureau of Quality Control.

The company, located at 15 Church Street, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Ethan Allen, manufacturer of lumber and panels.

According to Mendel, the company's air emission application for a boiler and an oil-fired boiler in 1985, and authorizes the DEP to certain modifications to the emission license would be taken to the company's modification.

In 1987, a renewal application was filed in 1987, and authorizes the DEP to certain modifications to the emission license would be taken to the company's modification.

DEP seeks large fine from wood firm

By BARBARA ADAMS

The Maine Department of Environmental Protection is seeking to assess Andover Wood Products a civil penalty of $10,000 for failure to obtain a new emission license prior to a modification of its boiler system, according to Michael Mendel of Maine's Bureau of Air Quality Control.

The company, located on North Main Street, is a wholly owned subsidiary of Ethan Allen, Inc., and manufactures lumber and furniture panels.

According to Mendel, the DEP requires such facilities to obtain license amendments for modifications that emit pollutants to the air, so that the DEP can determine if action has to be taken to protect the quality of the air surrounding the emission.

The company's air-emission license application for a wood-fired boiler and an oil-fired boiler was filed in 1985, and authorized by the DEP, subject to certain conditions. The license required that a new emission license would be necessary prior to the commencement of any modification.

In 1987, a renewal application was filed by the company in a timely manner. According to Mendel, when a licensee has made a timely and sufficient application for renewal of a license, the existing license shall not expire until the application has been finally determined by the agency.

On Nov. 19, 1991, the DEP received from Andover Wood Products an application for an air-emission license renewal and modification, which included the boiler, and was issued the license the following month.

Attorney Daniel Boxer of Portland, representing Andover Wood Products, recently signed a consent agreement and enforcement order from the DEP on behalf of the company.

Under the agreement, the company agrees to comply with the conditions of its air-emission license, and to acquire a new or amended license prior to beginning a modification. The agreement also includes payment of a $10,000 fine.

The DEP said that with these actions, the company violated the conditions of its air-emission license.

The DEP regulation states, "When the board of the DEP has by rule provided that no person may operate or maintain within a region any air contamination source, or emit any air contaminants without an emission license from the DEP, the operation or maintenance without that license is prohibited."

On Sept. 7, 1993, the DEP received from Andover Wood Products an application for an air-emission license renewal and modification, which included the boiler, and was issued the license the following month.

Attorney Daniel Boxer of Portland, representing Andover Wood Products, recently signed a consent agreement and enforcement order from the DEP on behalf of the company.

Under the agreement, the company agrees to comply with the conditions of its air-emission license, and to acquire a new or amended license prior to beginning a modification. The agreement also includes payment of a $10,000 fine.

Under the agreement, which must be approved by the DEP, the DEP and the state grant the company a release of the causes of action they have for the specific violations, provided the company pays the fine and complies with the terms of the consent agreement to the satisfaction of the DEP.

RETIRING TEACHERS MEET

Dear Friends,
As the deadline for our weekly ad appeared (again!), Katie was in the throes of putting together orders for our soon-to-be opened store in Bethel.

Katie, Judy and Roy are about to attend a publishers' and booksellers' trade show in Boston to see the new titles for fall and Christmas, and to place orders that will fill both stores with wonderful books.

There's so much to do before the books arrive in late October at our second location at 162 Main Street in Bethel (next to Bonneau Pottery).

As you, our customers, have stopped in and offered an encouraging word to us about the upcoming Bethel store, we've found that the load of all the work to be done to make it happen has been lifted. We really do appreciate you all!

Land trusts get administrative grant

Mahoosuc Land Trust and Norway-Paris Heritage Trusts have been awarded a $15,000 grant from the Betterment Fund to continue maintaining their shared executive director.

Professional staffing is necessary for both land trusts to continue their present land protection programs while they explore options of working more closely together and forming a regional alliance with other land trusts in western Maine, according to Marcel Polak, who is the shared executive director.

"This grant is a great statement of support for land trust work," Polak said. "Both trusts will still have to maintain strong membership support and conduct fundraising for their operating budgets. But it will now enable them to continue discussions together, and with the other western Maine land trusts, to guarantee sustainability. These trusts will continue to be a major force in local conservation work that will provide broad public benefit."

Mahoosuc Land Trust in the Bethel area and Norway-Paris Heritage Trust in the Oxford Hills area are local non-profit conservation organizations that work on a voluntary basis with landowners to protect significant lands.

Mahoosuc Land Trust owns Kendall and Philbrook Islands, and the George Schools' riverfront property on the Androscoggin River. Mahoosuc Land Trust also holds conservation easements on the Scruton Tree Farm in Upton and the Williamson Tree Farm in Newry.

The conservation easements allow continued tree harvesting and limited public access while precluding further development. The Williamson Tree Farm is currently leased by the Sunday River Skiing Center for cross-country skiing.

The Norway-Paris Heritage Trust holds conservation easements on four farms in Norway, South Paris, and Sumner. These easements encourage continued farming and maintain open space, while denying further development.

There are currently seven land trusts in western Maine: Androscoggin Land Trust in the Lewiston-Auburn area; Loon Echo Land Trust in the Sebago Lakes area; Greater Lovell Land Trust in the Kezar Lake area; Sandy River Land Trust in the Farmington area; Rangeley Lakes Heritage Trust; Mahoosuc Land Trust, and Norway-Paris Heritage Trust.

MASON'S TO HOST DANCE

A dance will be held at the Locke Mills Legion Hall on Oct. 8 from 8:30 p.m. to 12:00 a.m. to benefit the Jefferson Lodge Building Fund.

Admission to the dance is $8, and the Impalas will play. The benefit is sponsored by the Masons and Eastern Star of Bryant Pond and Greenwood. Proceeds from the dance will go toward needed repairs at the Lodge, according to James Miclon, Master of the Jefferson Lodge and member of the trustees.

The hall, which is located on Maine Street in Bryant Pond, is one of the older buildings in town.

The roof has been fixed, the fire escape repaired and some painting done this past spring and summer. But the building still needs a new bathroom and money to help pay for the lodge's share of the septic system improvements.

To donate to the project or for advance tickets call 875-5890, 674-2926, or 743-5953.

Bethel will be site of final summer biathlon

The 1994 Summer Biathlon national race circuit comes to Bethel on Saturday, Oct. 16 at the Gould Academy Biathlon Range. The race, scheduled for 11 a.m., is the season-ending finale of a nationwide series of 100 summer biathlon events over the course of a six-month season.

The race will be an important barometer for many of the region's top athletes to gauge themselves against their chief rivals at the conclusion of a successful season. With some of the nation's top summer biathletes located in the northeast, race organizers expect a highly competitive field at 1994's wrap-up event.

"The whole region is a hotbed of summer biathlon interest, so we have some of the best talent in the sport right at our doorstep," said race director Scott Jerome. "This race should be very competitive; we're already attracting athletes from several states and hundreds of miles away."

Summer biathlon, which combines running and rifle marksmanship, originated in the United States seven years ago as a warm-weather version of the Winter Olympic biathlon, and now attracts over 10,000 participating athletes throughout North America and Europe each year.

Newcomers are always encouraged to participate at summer biathlon events (more than 60 percent of those entering an event in 1992 were first-timers). All competitors must have a current summer biathlon certification card, which can be obtained by attending a short clinic prior to the race. All equipment, both for the clinic and the race itself, is provided.

The Summer Biathlon Program's 1994 season is sponsored by: adidas America, Marlin Firearms, Blount, Inc./CCI Ammunition, Bausch & Lomb Sports Optics, TETRA Gun, Bruder Healthcare/Compeed, KK Air, OPTEK, Dollar Rent a Car, Croakies, and PowerBar.

For further information on the Bethel Summer Biathlon race, contact race director Scott Jerome at 824-2259. For information on summer biathlon or the 1994 season, contact the Summer Biathlon National Office at 518-523-3576.

ANDOVER HISTORICAL SOCIETY OPEN HOUSE

The Andover Historical Society met recently to make plans for the annual open house, which will be held Sunday, Oct. 9 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Featured will be mementos of the Andover Fair, which was first held 100 years ago, in 1894. Also on display will be Favorite Antiques and "Old Things." Anyone having items to display may contact any member of the society or call Bev Swan at 392-4742 or Trudy Akers at 392-3157. Refreshments will be served at the open house.

A plaque with directions to Molloket's grave has been placed on the gate at Woodlawn Cemetery.

The plaque is in memory of Marguerite "Puggy" Emerson and Josephine Poor, members of the Andover Historical Society who were dedicated to preserving Andover's history.

Also discussed was the East Andover School, which was donated to the society by Violet and Robert Swain. A restoration is in the planning with an aim for an open house in the spring of 1995. School desks which may be donated or loaned to the society are being sought.

Donations for the East Andover School restoration fund may be sent to the Andover Historical Society, c/o Ruth Merriman, Treasurer, P.O. Box 69, Andover, ME 04216.

Resolution of Respect

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call from our midst our beloved sister, Hulda Stevens, and in view of the loss we have sustained in our grange and community--

Therefore be it resolved, that it is a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that, in regretting her passing, we mourn for one who was a faithful, diligent, and cheerful worker and friend, and one who will be greatly missed by all.

Therefore be it further resolved that we spread a copy of these resolutions upon our records, have a copy printed in the Bethel Citizen, and a copy sent to her bereaved family.

They say each year is easier. But we find this isn't true. Our lives are less since you've been gone. Our hearts still yearn for you. We try and carry on each day. That way we'll want us to do. But we'll never lose the love we had or our memories of you.
